Who We Are

Business Way Holding is a premier Syrian investment company established with a clear purpose: to be a catalyst for economic renewal. In a complex and evolving business landscape, we provide the stability, strategic direction, and operational support necessary for long-term success. Our foundation is built on profound local knowledge, a vast network of relationships, and a commitment to international standards of corporate governance.

We act as the strategic nucleus for a diverse group of subsidiaries, transforming individual companies into a synergistic ecosystem that is greater than the sum of its parts.

Vision

To be the cornerstone for sustainable economic development in Syria, pioneering a new era of private sector growth through strategic investment, operational excellence, and unwavering integrity.

Mission

To rebuild and diversify the Syrian economy by building, acquiring, and managing a portfolio of market-leading companies. We empower our subsidiaries to thrive by providing strategic capital, world-class governance, and deep local expertise, creating lasting value for our stakeholders and contributing to the nation's prosperity.

Message

In a landscape as complex as and promising as Syria's, traditional business models are not enough. Business Way Holding was founded on a fundamental belief: that economic renewal is driven by strategic investment, operational excellence, and an unwavering commitment to integrity. We are not merely investors; we are architects of a more resilient and diversified Syrian economy. Our role is to provide the strategic direction, deep local expertise, and robust governance that allows our family of market-leading companies to thrive. From building the critical logistics networks that reconnect Syria to the world, to supporting essential sectors like healthcare, tourism, and legal services, we are building a synergistic ecosystem designed for long-term value creation. We are here to be a cornerstone of sustainable growth, and I invite you to explore how our collective strength is contributing to a new era of private sector leadership in Syria.
